

“Sustainable Land and Marine Conservation and Eco-Tourism” Winter School

11 JANUARI - 23 JANAURI 2027

Dream of exploring unspoiled beaches, vibrant coral reefs and verdant mountains while making a real difference? Run in partnership with Southern Leyte State University, our summer school immerses you in the breathtaking biodiversity of Southern Leyte and beyond. Experience first-hand how responsible tourism safeguards fragile ecosystems and uplifts local communities. Guided by experts, you’ll snorkel and dive in protected marine areas, study sustainable land management and engage with communities to learn how eco-tourism can sustain livelihoods.

Your fee covers PADI diving lessons to earn your certification, transportation for course activities, comfortable accommodation and unforgettable excursions to Bohol and Siargao, plus field trips across Southern Leyte’s protected lands and seas. Discover how policy, science and community converge to preserve our planet. Come away with skills, memories and a lifelong commitment to conservation. Join us in the Philippines and be part of a movement to protect the places you love.
